

Understanding and attending to beliefs, cultural and spiritual needs of the deceased and the family provides a measure of peace and comfort.